Customer Success Story

RICK RYNIAK ARCHITECTS

eZ has become a fundamental part of the business of Rick Ryniak Architects.

Based in Maui, the firm serves demanding clients such as actor Kelsey Grammer and guitarist Carlos Santana. Rick's clients require the latest in immediate and convenient communication with their architect. eZ provides a simple, high-performance solution that is unmatched in interactivity, speed and simplicity.

With the press of a button, Rick can instantly and visually present designs or work out ideas with his customers – 'Live,' online. Once connected, clients can go over any subject or information with the architect in real-time. No delays! Everyone saves time, communicates better and gets more done with greater speed and convenience.

eZ is also vital to the firm in managing widely dispersed workgroups on various projects being built around the world. With eZ, the firm has unprecedented connectivity and communication capabilities in reaching and responding to everyone involved in creating and building the beautiful and unique places the firm produces.

eZ has become an important communication service for Rick Ryniak Architects, providing for all of their relationships. By adopting eZ so successfully, the firm has broadened its reach and has made coordination and communication easier for everyone involved.

Who are Rick's customers?

Legendary guitarist Carlos Santana winner of 9 Grammy awards in 2000.

"a peaceful, joy-filled paradise"

Emmy Award winning actor Kelsey Grammer famous for his role as Dr. Fraiser Crane on the hit TV shows Frasier and Cheers.

"a home with soul and spirit"

Four Ways Rick Ryniak Architects use eZ for faster and better communication:

Client Meetings

Rick Ryniak Architects meets with clients using eZ more often than they meet in person. eZ enables the firm to stay in close and intimate touch with their customers at all times. If needed, ideas can be discussed and analyzed in a moment's notice. 3D models can be presented 'live' over the internet for clients to see and comment on. It's easy and convenient for everyone!

Project Management

With projects in many distant locations, eZ gives the firm the ability to have a presence on all their job sites. Contractors and team members can look at virtually any condition together and solve problems. There are no delays in waiting for important information or people to get on the same page in order to discuss and resolve issues. eZ saves time and money.

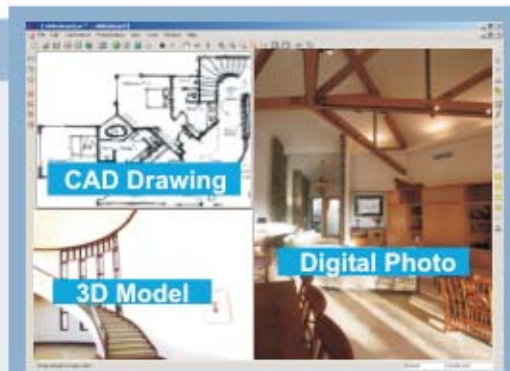

Collaboration and Delegation

The firm is made up of a widely dispersed project production team working out of Maui, Vancouver, Las Vegas and San Diego. Using eZ, all team members are always connected and can respond instantly to each other if required. Drawings and models are redlined and marked up, both offline and online in order to work out ideas and details in the production drawing process better.

Information Sharing

eZ's collaboration service combined with eZ's free universal viewer give Rick Ryniak Architects the easiest and most convenient communication system in the world. There is no information that the firm cannot immediately and powerfully share with anyone. There is less confusion and frustration because everyone can see each other's work and share all types of information.
